

Chairman Powell has a responsibility to all citizens of this country. It is incumbent upon him to stand up to Corporate America and just say no. The actions taken for the short term gain for this administration and their associations with corporations will be paid for by our children, and their children as well. Chairman Powells actions are clearly for the benefit of media giants. This direction of power will lead to abandonment of diversity across this country. It's bad enough that the number of political parties that "represent" the people can be counted on one hand. Consolidation will lead to similar "representation" of the people in this country. Chairman Powells actions clearly ignore the millions of voices speaking out against the consolidation of media. What is the true driving force for Powell? His father should be ashamed of his sons public disdain for the American Peoples voices. But then again Colin Powells lack of parental guidance is evidence of another period where ignorance was the way of the day, pure ignorance of current American values and total absence of long range visions that would or should provide equal benefit all Americans, not just the chosen few.
